Boy Trikes To Town—64 Blocks In 90 Minutes

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer
Lincoln police stopped a "reckless" driver at 10th and O Friday, after the young offender had driven full speed through a traffic light at 13th and O.

Now that in itself is not too unusual. But this driver was Gary Hagerman of 923 Moraine Dr., who celebrated his fifth birthday only last Sunday.

No, Gary wasn't driving a car—it was a trike. He apparently had driven it all the way from his home in Eastridge (which is east of 56th and J) in record time. He covered the 64-block distance in about 90 minutes, averaging better than seven miles an hour.

His mother, Mrs. John L. Hagerman, said she last saw her son about 10:30 a.m. just as she was about to wash her hair.

His older brother Jackie, 10, said Gary was still around the house a few minutes before 11. She missed him about an hour later and sent Jackie to search for him.

But Gary was well on his way by then. He was reported by passing motorists at several points on his trip—first at Cotner and O about 11:20 a.m.

Next, Police Sgt. R. J. McMeen saw him zoom across the crosswalk against the red light at 13th and O about noon, and gave chase on foot. But the speedy youngster, cutting in and out on the sidewalk on the south side of O, quickly outdistanced McMeen.

The sergeant reported Gary was "really moving—I'll bet he was going seven or eight miles an hour!"

McMeen walked on west to 12th and O, where he paused and talked for several minutes. Then he continued on west O, and at 12th found that Police Patrolman Roe Heston had stopped the youngster.

But Gary, in the time it took McMeen to walk from 13th to 10th, had driven on over the Harris Overpass onto West O—where he was reported by a passing motorist at 2nd and O—and then for some unknown reason, turned around and headed back into town.

When questioned by McMeen and Heston, Gary did not seem to know where he was going other than just "downtown."

Police Lt. Gail Gade, the department's juvenile officer, was dispatched and picked up Gary and his trike and began searching for the youth's home.

(Mrs. Hagerman and her husband were searching for Gary by this time, but had not telephoned police.)

Just Couldn't Believe It
Gade said he kept asking Gary "Do I turn here?" as they drove east on O, but the boy always replied with a firm "No!"

When they approached Cotner and O, the incredulous Gade decided to take things into his own hands.

He stopped and telephoned Police Headquarters to see if the boy's parents had reported his absence.

(Gary, when asked where he lived, replied only "Eastridge," but police misunderstood him and thought he said "E Street.")

Looked Like It
While Gade was phoning, Gary's father drove up to the call box and remarked that the trike that he saw sticking from the rear seat of the cruiser looked like his son's.

Gade pointed to Gary in the front seat, and Hagerman listened nearly speechless while his son's escapades were recounted.

Considerably shaken, Hagerman took his young speedster home to mother where at last report, he was sleeping off his long trip.

Why The Trip?
After a three-hour nap, young Gary told his mother he was trying to follow his 10-year-old brother whom he mistakenly thought had gone downtown.

Did the youthful adventurer have any misgivings?
His mother said the lad, upon reaching downtown, had worried "about the long trip back home."

Holiday
Death Toll
Reaches 6
Nebraska's violent death count for the long holiday week end rose to six Friday. Four traffic fatalities and two drownings had been recorded.

One of Friday's additions to the toll was the death of Paul Sullivan, 31, Plattsmouth, who was killed in a train-car collision on the new Highway 275 between Papillion and Bellevue.

Later in the evening Rose Mary Fernandez, 7, of Greeley, Colo., was killed eight miles northeast of Bayard when struck by a car driven by Charles Clough of Minatare. Clough told officers he was blinded by the sun as he drove west.

Sullivan apparently was thrown from the car by the impact of the collision, according to an Associated Press dispatch. The Plattsmouth man was dead on arrival at an Omaha hospital.

Sullivan, father of five children between 3 and 9 years old, was on his way to work at the Western Electric construction project at Millard.

Sarpy County Sheriff Ernest Arp said Sullivan apparently drove into the side of a Rock Island freight train where the tracks cross the highway two miles south of the Douglas-Sarpy County line.

Sullivan's death brought the state's highway fatality toll for the year to 127, compared with 149 at this time last year.

Molotov Overreached...

CONFESSES A PLOT

Khrushchev Grip Tightens

Purge Followed A 35-Hour Debate In Soviet Central Committee

WARSAW (AP)—V. M. Molotov and three other Soviet leaders confessed a plot to oust Nikita Khrushchev before they were purged, Warsaw circles said Friday.

These sources said their reported self-criticism climaxed a 35-hour debate in the Soviet Communist Party's Central Committee.

While the debate raged, party boss Khrushchev is said to have sent representatives to Red China, Poland and the sensitive Soviet Republic of Georgia to explain what was going on.

The report had no official confirmation, but Warsaw long has been known as a leaking point for secret Soviet moves.

Out In the Open
The clash between Molotov and Khrushchev came into the open as soon as the Central Committee session began June 22 in Moscow.

Khrushchev proposed that the first point of the agenda should be the current situation of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

Molotov pressed a counterproposal—that the party consider the "international position of the Soviet Union in the light of attempted imperialist putschs in Poland, Italy, Japan and the United States."

All four of these Communist parties have disputed the orthodox view that the Hungarian uprising was the work of Western agents.

Prompt Opposition
Molotov referred to the bread-and-freedom uprising last summer at Poznan, Poland, and the anti-Soviet revolt in Hungary last fall. Molotov immediately was opposed by a young Communist official from the industrial city of Sverdlovsk, A. P. Kyrilenko. He was a political unknown until this session.

"There are people in our own party responsible for the recent outcry against the Soviet Union," Kyrilenko declared.

He meant the so-called conservatives were responsible for the Hungarian uprising and the wave of anti-Soviet feeling that followed.

Speaks For Three Hours
Khrushchev, faced with Molotov's challenge, spoke for three hours June 23. He made these points:

1. Molotov with the three other purged leaders, Georgi Malenkov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov, formed an anti-party (anti-Khrushchev) group with headquarters in Moscow and with ramifications throughout the Soviet Union.

2. Molotov, backed by Kaganovich and Shepilov, used the Soviet foreign ministry and embassies abroad as instruments for the execution of personal policy.

Khrushchev charged that Molotov thus snarled attempts at rapprochement with President Tito of Yugoslavia in 1954 before Khrushchev visited Belgrade in an attempt to patch up relations.

The party secretary said that Secretary of State Dulles "once claimed the USSR tried for months to torpedo the disarmament talks."

"Unfortunately," Khrushchev continued, "this imperialist statesman was practically right. Only it was not the Soviet Union which tried to torpedo the talks, but Molotov, Kaganovich and Shepilov."

Especially Molotov
3. Molotov especially disturbed relations with other Communist parties and sput the Soviet bloc.

At this point, Khrushchev explained the significance of the visit to Poland June 22 of Anastas Mikoyan, one of his top confidants.

Mikoyan came to Warsaw to tell Wladislaw Gomulka, Polish party chief, that Molotov was on the way out.

Road Near-Miss Jolts Ike Slightly

...At Country Club Entrance

By ROBERT G. NIXON
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS)—President Eisenhower was jolted slightly Friday when he came within 50 feet of a "near miss" accident between two other cars while motoring to the golf course.

One of the automobiles had been stopped at the big White House limousine was making a left turn across the Chambersburg Pike into the Gettysburg Golf Club.

Another car came barreling over a rise and halted in a long skid with screeching brakes in back of the stopped auto, just 50 feet away from the machine carrying Mr. Eisenhower.

The chief executive's driver jammed on the power brakes of the limousine. Mr. Eisenhower and his guests were jolted slightly by the sudden halt, but appeared to be in no danger.

Riding with the President were W. B. Alton Jones, New York City oil financier; George Allen, a friend and neighbor of Mr. Eisenhower; Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's physician, and two secret service agents, one of whom was driving.

Halts Traffic
The near-miss accident occurred when a State Highway Patrolman, apprised of the President's departure from his home to play golf, went out on the highway at the entrance to the golf course to halt traffic approaching from Chambersburg to allow Mr. Eisenhower's car to turn across the highway into the club drive.

The patrolman had stopped one car and was waiting for the President's car to cross the highway when another vehicle came over a rise in the road.

The driver, seeing the cars ahead, jammed on his brakes with a loud screech and halted just short of ramming the automobile ahead.

Mr. Eisenhower's car then turned into the golf club drive. Club members and newsmen, a hundred yards or so away, heard the screech of skidding tires and, seeing the President's car halted at the entrance, hurried out to see what had happened.

No charge was made against either driver by the State Highway Patrolman.

The President appeared unperturbed as he stepped from his car at the first tee and prepared to begin playing despite stiff muscles from an afternoon of horseback riding Thursday.

Although the NRPD is not a member of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association, its representatives have been asked to attend the Saturday meeting.

MERCURY TO AGAIN REACH HIGH PERCH

That good old summer heat, with high temperatures from 87 to 97, was expected to continue Saturday, according to Weather Bureau predictions.

Scattered thundershowers were forecast for the western part of Nebraska Saturday, but the rest of the state was to be clear to partly cloudy.

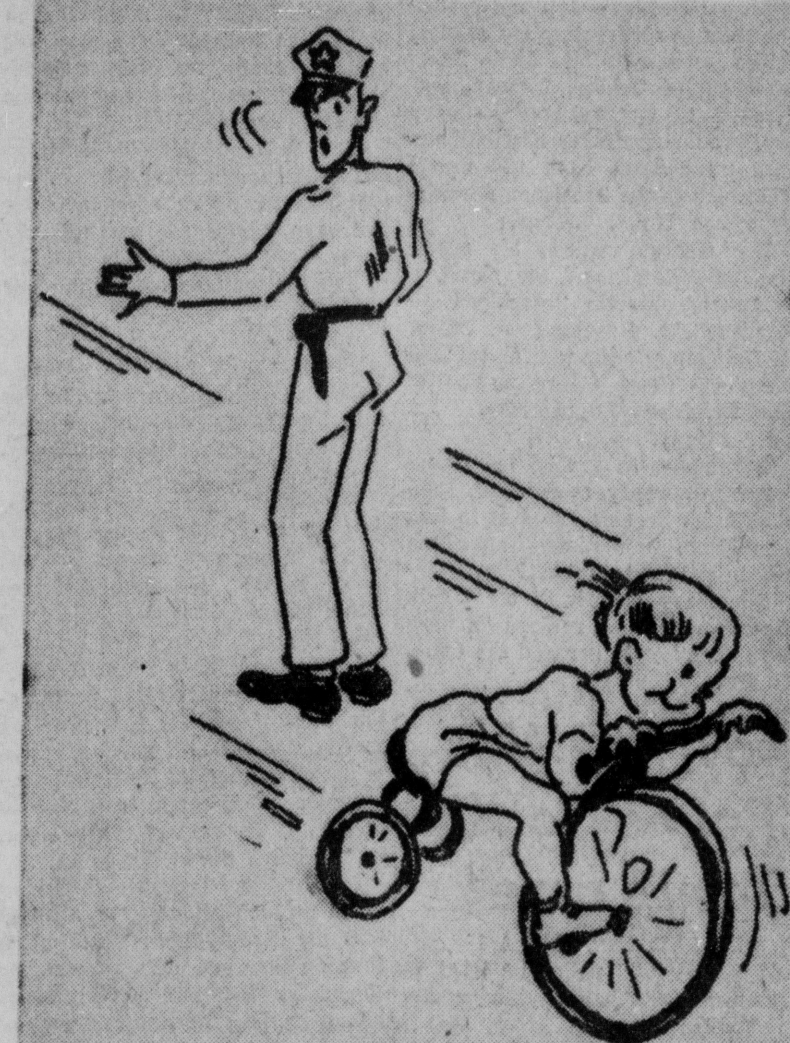

Friday's high ranged from 93 at Imperial to 88 at Omaha. Lincoln had a 90-degree high.

Ike Seething At Kennedy

White House And Aides Regard Algeria Speech As 'Politics'

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—The White House is seething over what it regards as a "brashly political" move by Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy to embarrass the administration's slowly mending relations with France.

An unimpeachable source disclosed Friday that President Eisenhower and his top foreign policy advisers have concluded that Kennedy's "meddlesome" speech on the delicate French-Algerian crisis was designed to present himself as an "impartial statesman" on world affairs.

They see it as part and parcel of a carefully designed move by Kennedy to gain stature as 1960 presidential timber.

The source revealed that Ike and his staff held a full-fledged policy meeting to pool their thinking on the "whys" underlying Kennedy's "damaging fishing in troubled waters" at this time.

He said this was the White House conclusion: Kennedy, the most junior member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was eager to gain stature as a "world-thinking" statesman. He knew that by delivering a speech denouncing Soviet excesses in Poland, he could aid himself politically with the large Polish and central European vote in this country.

New Way

But first he had to capture headlines with the speech. As a consequence (according to White House thinking), Kennedy searched for a dramatic new way to attract public attention for the address on Poland, scheduled for next week, inasmuch as numerous other senators have already spoken out on that subject.

The administration believes that for this reason Kennedy settled on a two-pronged build-up for his denunciation of Russia, and then chose the Algerian crisis because there is no such thing in this country as a "French" or "Algerian" vote.

In other words, he could lose no political ground by attacking French colonialism in Algeria, but he could capture the nation's headlines by presenting himself as an impartial observer of the world scene.

The White House source said that while Ike and his advisers unanimously agreed with this assumption, it did little to ease the "tremendous repercussions" abroad to Kennedy's speech.

He insisted that the Kennedy action not only embarrassed us in our relations with the French, which have been strained since our U.N. action against them as a result of the Israeli-French-British invasion of Egypt, but that it also could dangerously encourage the Algerians to further excesses in their revolt against French rule.

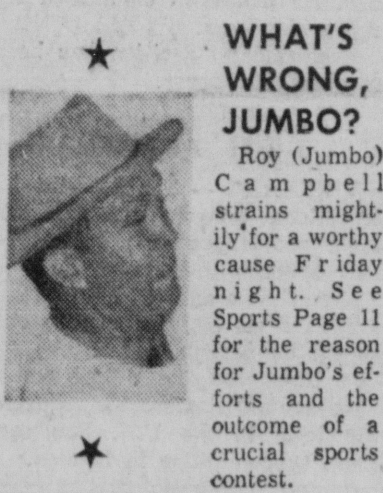

Silver Lining

As in most such crises, however, the administration was able to glimpse a silver lining. The source said that Kennedy, who has been a frequent vacationer on the French Riviera with his father, multimillionaire Joseph P. Kennedy, had inadvertently made a "hero" out of Secretary of State Dulles in France.

COUNTY WHEAT HARVEST GETS INTO FULL SWING

...Tests Drier Than Expected

Harvesting of winter wheat in Lancaster County got into full swing on the Fourth of July, and shipments from the area are now pouring into local elevators.

The newly harvested grain "looks good" according to elevator managers, and tests on weight range from 58 to 61 pounds per bushel. Moisture content at local elevators is testing from 11 per cent to 15 per cent, much drier than was expected.

Peak shipments locally are expected Monday or Tuesday. Several elevators received first shipments July 3, about five to seven days later than normal.

Robert Puelz, general manager of the Equity Union Grain Co. elevator, reports that farmers over the entire area have started harvesting of the high lands. Shipments are generally of the early Pawnee variety.

Equity elevator reported 10,000 bushels received on Friday. Most of the elevator officials say it is still too early to determine the winter wheat yield per acre. At Cheney, one farm operator told elevator men that he was harvesting an average of 40 bushels per acre.

Elevators reporting shipments and test estimates are:

Equity, Lincoln, ave. 12.5% moisture, 58 1/2 to 60 lbs. test weight.
Hut-Fairchild, Lincoln, 13% to 15% moisture, 59 to 61 lbs. test weight.
Watson, ave. 13% moisture, ave. 60 lbs. test weight.
Cheney, 12% to 15% moisture, 58 to 60 lbs. test weight.
Roca, 12% to 12.5% moisture, ave. 60 lbs. test weight.

Newest A-Explosion Real Dazzler

Earth Shaken And Desert Fire Started

By BOB CONSIDINE
YUCCA FLAT, Nev. (INS)—America's newest atomic bomb bathed the entire western section of the United States in an eerie light early Friday morning, shook areas as far away as Los Angeles, ignited a huge desert fire, and was seen by an air line pilot 1,000 miles out over the Pacific.

The biggest nuclear device ever touched off within the continent retained its blinding brightness for a spectacularly long time as times are measured in a-bomb tests.

It erupted power in excess of 60,000 tons of TNT, atomic energy experts said unofficially.

It turned the inky pre-dawn of Klamath Falls, Ore., nearly 900 miles away, into momentary daylight and did the same for sleepy towns in northern Mexico. Photographers in San Francisco, 600 miles to the northwest, exposed film by its light. There was consternation in Los Angeles, 350 miles to the west, and guarded by heavy mountain ranges, as the bomb's hot waves hit the great metropolis 25 minutes after the jolting, searing detonation. It was a "jarring" shock to the seismograph of Charles F. Richter, California Institute of Technology scientist.

America had a new mule in its atomic barn. It is a mule with so much kick that if it developed any more it would have to be tested at the remote Eniwetok proving ground in the far Pacific, and not on Yucca Flat, where 2,000 marines maneuvered in the wake of Friday's massive shot.

Its burning light, which hung over Yucca like a huge star, illuminated the AEC laboratory at Livermore, Calif., 600 miles away, where the bomb was created under the direction of Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb which this new one may be designed to fuse.

With the prolonged light came torrents of heat that caused the cacti and other desert vegetation and debris to burst into flames that served as a far-flung side-show to the awesomely fiery mushroom forming overhead.

The same marine outfit which four years ago won bloody Vegas Peak from the Red Chinese in Korea took part in Friday's man-made and rigidly controlled conflagration. By armored vehicle, chopper and truck, tactically supported by howling jets straining the "enemy" with blanks and dropping "napalm" bombs, the dusty Marines moved gingerly into the menacing dust-entombed area.

Brig. Gen. Harvey Tschirgi, commander of the Fourth Provisional Atomic Exercise Battalion, USMC, reported no casualties and the operation a valuable addition to the Marines' know-how in this atomic age.

Misfired Aerial Bomb Explodes; Boy Near Death

PATERSON, N. J. (AP)—A misfired aerial bomb picked up from a Fourth of July fireworks display by a teen-age boy exploded Friday almost blowing his brother to bits.

The boy, Joseph Bonnick, 14, was rushed to Paterson General Hospital where he was not expected to live.

All his fingers were blown off, his left ankle was nearly severed and four gaping holes were torn in his body by the blast, police said.

It also rocked the neighborhood, tearing off the Bonnick's cellar door, shattering a window and hurling part of the bomb's container into Joseph's room where it was embedded in a mattress.

Joseph's 15-year-old brother, Michael, had picked up the bomb Thursday when it landed at his feet after failing to explode during a fireworks display at Hinchliffe Stadium, Michael told police.

Mrs. Bonnick ordered Michael not to play with it and he left it by the garbage can. Michael said he saw Joseph pick it up and slam it down on the sidewalk. Some of the powder spilled out, Michael said, and when Joseph lit a match to it, it went off.

Cracks Up

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The marriage that began in a chartered airplane over Iowa two years ago cracked up.

Mrs. Marion G. Williams, 29, former New York model, filed suit for separate maintenance against her 54-year-old millionaire husband, Edward L. (Doc) Williams.

The couple was married July 30, 1955, in a 44-passenger airliner while a sky-writing plane sketched hearts and arrows in the sky.

Mrs. Williams also asked for equitable division of her husband's property. The petition places its value at more than two million dollars.

DREUX, France (AP)—Prince Henri of Orleans and the Duchess Marie Therese of Wurtemberg, both descendants of Bourbon kings, were married Friday in the presence of surviving royalty.

There were two ceremonies. The first was a civil service in the drab Dreux courthouse which was decorated with a single French Tricolor.

Then the young prince and duchess drove off to the Royal Chapel of St. Louis for a Roman Catholic ceremony. The chapel was decorated with thousands of red and white flowers.

About 160 select guests were headed by King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece, the only reigning royalty present.

Car-Truck Crash Kills 7, Injures 3

COPEMISH, Mich. (AP)—Seven out of eight members of an Arkansas family were killed Friday when their car and a stake truck crashed on the edge of this northwestern lower Michigan community.

It was the worst single traffic accident reported anywhere in the nation thus far in the long Independence Day holiday.

Sole survivor of the Bynum Collins family was 3-year-old Dennis, the family, migrant fruit pickers from Paragould, Ark., was on its way from Bay City, Mich., to the cherry orchards in the Frankfort, Mich. area some 35 miles from here along the shore of Lake Michigan.

The truck driver, Warfield Laws, 53, of Lake City, Mich., was either entering or leaving Copemish when the crash occurred at the intersection of State Highway 115 and a county road.

Killed were Bynum Collins, about 55; his wife, Florence, about 45; and five of their children, Linda, 14; Gary, 13; Harold, 10; Thomas, 9; and Terry, 5.

Another son, Dennis, 3, and Collins' 13-year-old niece Clara Collins, were injured critically. They, along with Laws, were taken to a hospital in Frankfort. Hospital authorities said the girl suffered compound skull and leg fractures and the boy suffered a train concussion. Laws, they said, was injured less seriously.

Colorado Head-On Car Accident Hurts Three Lincolntonites

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP)—Four persons were injured in a two-car head-on collision 13 miles west of here on U.S. Highway 34 late Thursday.

Others injured were Mrs. Ross, 45; Darrell Jensen, 32 and his wife, Lois, 30, all of Lincoln, Neb. Loveland Hospital attendants said the condition of all the injured was good.

Bridge Rebuilding Action Is Pushed

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The board of Sanitary District 1 has approved sending of letters urging groups involved to take action on rebuilding of inadequate bridges over both Antelope Creek and Dead Man's Run.

Action by the District on both bridges and channel work was urged by George Abel, of the Abel Construction Co. which owns business property in the Antelope area around Y. His and other firms in the Antelope basin, he said, suffered substantial losses in last Monday's flood.

He told the District that eight new bridges from Vine to Court on Antelope have been constructed, one new one is in process and three needed ones have not been started.

After Fair Week
District Engineer Ralph Marlette reported that the county bridge at Court St. would not be started by the county until after Fair Week. The city, he said, plans

Board OKs Transfer Of Disposal Plant

The board of Sanitary District 1 has approved transfer of its sewage disposal plant and sanitary sewer responsibilities to the city.

Formal signing of the agreement for transfer will be done when one change is made in the document. The District will change the contract to retain a frontage on Adams 300 feet deep instead of the 150 foot depth in the original document.

The transfer paved the way for several other steps, including adoption of lower mill levy for the District for the coming fiscal year. Without the sewer work, the District will be able to cut one mill from its levy.

One Mill Levy
Thus, the District approved a levy of just one mill for the coming year. This levy will be for general operation of the District in drainage and flood control work.

The transfer also clears the way for the city to begin work on its contemplated $4 million sewer improvement program. A sewer 'se fee has already been enacted to finance the work.

Bonds will be sold on the basis of the use fee use revenue to provide ready cash for the program. Purpose of the transfer was to place all sewer work under a single jurisdiction to facilitate the sale of bonds.

1 City Sewage Tank Might Shut Down

The Sanitary District 1 faces a possible shut down of one of its sewage digestion tanks at the disposal plant as a result of a sewer washed out in Monday's flood and now emptying into Antelope Creek.

The washout occurred on the west side of Antelope just north of the Court St. bridge. Without the sewage from that line, there is not enough waste to keep both plant digestors working.

Once a digester is shut down, it is a long and difficult process to get it in operation again. The tanks are slow to build up to the acidity required to break down the sewage.

During this time, they also fail to produce the gas required for operation of the plant.

A city-owned sewer line, the problem will be given the city with a letter from the District.

GIRARD, 'CANDY' ARE WED

Only 10 Persons In White Chapel

CAMP WHITTINGTON, Japan (AP)—Illinois soldier William S. Girard solemnized his marriage to a Japanese girl in a nearly empty church Friday.

Then he celebrated on chicken and champagne with his bride, the former Haru (Candy) Sueyama, and returned under military police guard to his barracks.

The Jan. 30 fatal shooting of a Japanese woman on a firing range—for which the Ottawa, Ill. soldier faces a Japanese trial or a court-martial—cast pall on the festivities. The case has precipitated a drive in Congress to end foreign trials of U.S. servicemen.

Only 10 people, including the bride and groom, an organist and Chaplain (Maj.) Harry Rickard, were permitted to enter the steeped white chapel for Methodist rites solemnizing Girard's July 1 civil marriage.

The best man, a military police sergeant, doubled as Girard's guard during the 10-minute ceremony. The only other invited guests were the best man and chaplain's wives, Candy's maid of honor and Girard's Army legal adviser.

80 Stand Outside
About 80 persons stood outside ropes placed at the front of the chapel. They included American and Japanese reporters and photographers, the camp provost marshal, unarmed military policeman and five Army public information officials.

After the couple had exchanged rings and been pronounced husband and wife, they knelt and repeated the Lord's Prayer with Chaplain Rickard of Winchester, Va. Then Girard kissed his wife.

"He didn't seem at all nervous," commented the chaplain afterward.

Girard, wearing his regular Army summer khaki uniform with no necktie, and Candy, in a rented pink-and-white flower kimono with a white veil, then walked from the chapel to a battery of microphones.

"This is a very happy event. I only wish my mother and brother were here," Girard said. Candy, her eyes wet, managed a "thank you very much."

Girard's best man and guard was Sgt. Gilbert Saylor of New Market, Va., who has invited the couple to his home nightly for more than a month, encouraging Girard to forget his troubles for a few brief hours.

Huge Cake

For the wedding celebration, Saylor and his wife came through with chicken, gravy and biscuits—Girard's favorites—champagne and a huge, tiered wedding cake.

Girard changed to civilian clothes, including a short-sleeved sport shirt that revealed two tattooed elbows. Candy wore a striped dress at the party. On the first toast to the couple, Candy sampled her champagne, made a wry face and poured it into Girard's glass.

Ballad Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP)—The choral work "Ballad For Americans" was dropped from the Fourth of July program at the Washington Monument, after a protest that its composer had taken the Fifth Amendment.

Rosario Scibilia, executive director of the Catholic War Veterans, said the protest was made to the Marine Corps early this week. Instead of the ballad, the Marine Band played "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "This Is My Country."

Seaplane Makes Daring Landing To Pick Up Sailor

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—A Coast Guard seaplane made a daring landing on the choppy waters of the Pacific 1,000 miles off the California coast Friday, picked up a stricken Swedish seaman from a U.S. Navy ship and rushed the man to emergency aid ashore.

The seaman, Rolf Axel Berglund, 22, of Ocklbo, Sweden, suffered a strangulated hernia aboard the Swedish freighter Kirribilli and was transferred from the vessel Thursday to the American destroyer escort U.S.S. George.

The George radioed his condition as critical, and the plane, a two-engine Martin "Mariner" piloted by Lt. Raymond M. Miller of Belmont, Calif., was dispatched from the Coast Guard station at San Francisco International Airport Friday.

Berglund was rushed by ambulance to surgery at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in San Francisco, immediately after the plane returned to base.

The Navy skipper of the U.S.S. George meantime radioed "a very well done" to Miller and the Coast Guard.

Boy, 15, Was 'Bound To Kill Someone'

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—A 15-year-old Friday told police he tried to rob a man who had only four cents, and killed him.

Robert Earl Mayfield of Midland, a former reformatory inmate, told a reporter, "I guess I was bound to kill someone sooner or later."

The youth was taken into custody after the body of Joe Raymond Hampton, 56, was found beneath a warehouse. Hampton was unemployed.

Cope Routh of the Midland Reporter-Telegram said Mayfield gave these details to him and juvenile officer Bill Keel.

Mayfield prowled several cars. He found a revolver and a fifth of gin in one. He drank the gin and decided to rob one of several men sleeping under a warehouse Wednesday night.

"I told him to give me his money and he kept saying he didn't have any," Mayfield said, "I finally got mad and shot him."

Then he shrugged and added: "No, it doesn't bother me that I killed a man. I guess I was bound to kill someone sooner or later."

Keel said the youth was released from the State School for Boys at Gatesville about two months ago. He had been committed for ransacking cars.

Keel said no decision has been reached on charges.

Ban Asked

VIENNA (AP)—The Socialist international Congress urged immediate acceptance of proposals to halt H-bomb tests.

A resolution adopted by the Congress did not say whose proposals should be accepted. Both the Soviet Union and the United States have submitted plans for suspending tests to the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee in London.

Don't Get Worked Up, Yet

Best advice to America is to remain restrained and reserved over the news that the Red Russian hierarchy has gone through another purge. Just mark it down that three not-very-good friends of the democratic West, namely V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich, are temporarily unemployed, and that any seasoned handicapper would give odds that their next official job is more apt to be in front of a firing squad than anywhere else.

Loss of power by three such enemies of America would be cause for relief were it not for the fact that in wishing bad cess to us there is strictly no difference between the purgers and the purged. The difference, if any, was intramural and has to do with what to do in the West and by whose hand Russia is to be governed meantime.

Unless later developments bring substantial evidence to the contrary it cannot be interpreted ed that the new added power of Khrushchev and the disappearance from his front of three principal government figures means a Russian change of heart. Nor does it mean a weakening of government. Expulsion, firing squads and denunciations are the Russian equivalent of our national elections. Our Constitution, our government and our general attitude to the world do not change when one party dies in the other party at the polls, or when the President accepts two or three resignations from his cabinet.

Such comfort as can be taken in this latest Moscow flareup rests largely on the impression that Khrushchev is more inclined toward co-existence, a little more amenable to the soft approach than the three cloak and dagger men he kicked out. But no one has ever demonstrated that Khrushchev ever stood for any other sort of international co-operation than that which promises the greatest reward to Communism at the least sacrifice.

First Get The Facts

The political pedagogy of recent months in Nebraska has been on the subject of hard tack budgets and unrestrained economy. Although public budgets withstood the onslaught with inspiring fortitude the taxpayer public was weaker and endorsed the innovation.

For that reason there may be some upraised eyebrows over the announcement that the Nebraska Highway Department is about to employ a landscape engineer for the first time since 1947. There may be some murmuring over the necessity of retaining an exterior decorator. The mental picture of a man in beret and smock doing heroic landscapes on a canvas blocked off in counties instead of inches may prove upsetting.

But on closer examination a good deal can be said for the Highway Department's projected plan. Roadside areas are important areas, certainly as important to the highway user as the highway itself. Nebraska like other states jeered the depression-inspired shelter belts and highway plantings—but not for long. Today there are no more beautiful nor useful facilities to be encountered and the main regret is that the program was not made total when it was being developed.

If future landscaping does no more than to rearrange side road intersections with main highways so as to reduce accident hazards then every minute of it has been eminently worthwhile. If it protects against such things as roadside erosion it has more than justified itself. If it adds beauty to desired utility so much the better.

The States Don't Want It

Congress is preparing to grant a four year extension of the authority of the Department of Agriculture to administer the federal Soil Conservation Service.

That would hardly be news except that it throws timely light on the position of most states in respect to the Eisenhower administration's efforts to disperse government activities. Recently President Eisenhower proposed to the meeting of governors that the states take over quite a number of programs presently run from Washington, largely on income tax revenues.

It is interesting, therefore, that the Soil Conservation Act was passed in 1936 during a Roosevelt administration that was reshaping the nation after the ship of state had run aground in the great depression. It was the express intent of the act that it should remain under federal guidance only until it became established. Then there was provision that each state could enact suitable laws permitting them to run their own programs with the federal government retreating to a position of financial helper—a giver of grants in aid.

The offer has been standing for 21 years and periodically the Congress votes an extension of time for Department of Agricultural control. Only a few states ever stepped forward to assume the responsibility even though there was assurance that federal funds would be continued. The program, incidentally, currently calls for $250 million a year nationally.

The reaction of the states is understandable. The federal programs have been satisfactory. There is no convincing evidence that the states could do the job better and cheaper. An added state department would only tend to make state government unwieldy and state by state control would be a patchwork. And there is a difference where the money comes from. Already heavily burdened state property taxes would in all probability be pushed higher and if there were any benefit in evacuating the SCS department from the Department of Agriculture it would be in some sort of a deduction in the federal income tax, mainly felt by the upper bracket taxpayers. There is no point in shrinking federal services just as a means of lightening the tax load of a few who are most able to pay.

Editorial Of The Day

The Nickerson Trial

From The Christian Science Monitor

The court-martial at Redstone Arsenal has disciplined Col. John C. Nickerson Jr., with a lighter hand than could have been expected.

This, we would guess, has been in part because it took account of his distinguished record, in part because it accepted the patriotism of his motives, and in part because (being composed of experienced high-ranking officers) it knew expert von Braun spoke much truth when he testified that practically all of the documents divulged, while highly "classified" by the Army, did not contain material viewed as confidential by the Air Force.

Colonel Nickerson admitted freely he had to be disciplined—in fact should be. And that portion of the Redstone episode which has its roots wholly in interservice jealousies and rivalries cannot be condoned.

But—speaking of rivalries—which works the greater damage to the national interest? The rivalry which induces a perhaps overdedicated officer to break regulations to get his service's case out in the open? Or the rivalry which induces a second service to press for the exclusive adoption of its own weapon and the cancellation of another which tests thus far suggest is the superior one?

Let All Live And Eat, Says Truman

KANSAS CITY—Harry Truman was in his usual bouncing mood when I saw him recently. A big pile of mail was on his desk. The American flag was beside it.

"I'm just back from stirring up the animals in Washington," he said. "Somebody has to do it."

I reminded the former president that the last time I had talked to him he had predicted there would be war over the Suez Canal.

"That was in February 1956," I recalled, "which was five months before Nasser seized the Suez Canal, and nine months before war started. How did you know war was coming?"

"Very simple," he replied. "Russian arms in Egypt. When you have an arms build-up you have war."

"Would you have stopped that build-up if you had been in the White House?"

"We have enough ships in the Mediterranean," he replied, "to throw a blockade against any vessel bringing in Russian arms. And the United Nations would support us in heading off war."

STALIN LAUGHS

"At the Potsdam conference," he reminisced, "I proposed that all important waterways be internationalized—Suez, the Dardanelles, Gibraltar, the Danube. I offered to internationalize the Panama Canal. Those waterways have got to be internationalized to keep peace in the world. We should have done it before Nasser seized the Suez."

"What happened to the proposal at Potsdam?"

DORIS FLEESON

President Gropes With Disarmament

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower attempted at his press conference this week to undo the damage done to the disarmament negotiations when he thought about the "clean bomb" question with reporters the week before.

With impatience bordering on anger, he said this country was not "shooting from the hip" on disarmament, and he stressed again his hopes for real accomplishment.

At the same time, he threw out a new and provocative suggestion. It was that other nations might send inspectors to the United States bomb tests to see for themselves that the dangerous fallout was being reduced to the vanishing point. The morning headlines in London had been that the United States was formally proposing a 10-month suspension of nuclear tests.

With disarmament the President is making his first and almost his only real effort to create an important new policy for this country. The confusions of the past few weeks illustrate the difficulties his temperament poses for him in such an undertaking.

He is a conciliator and a mediator. He likes to give weight to the views of everyone who can achieve his ear. He dislikes tough decisions which necessarily displease people. Being neither analytical nor critical, he does not want to work his own way through masses of material and opinion to reach a firm line of his own.

Up to now the country has accepted his limitations cheerfully; it had, after all, a long siege of the

"The British were lukewarm," Mr. Truman replied. "Stalin said he couldn't do anything about the Dardanelles until the Montreux convention expired. He wanted to control the Dardanelles himself and take it away from Turkey."

"Stalin always wanted a base in the Mediterranean. Now Russia has one in Albania and another at Alexandria, Egypt. I'll bet Stalin is standing up in his grave laughing."

"What do you think is the way to bring peace to that part of the world?" I asked.

"Just what I told you before," said Mr. Truman, proving that his memory was better than mine. "That is where history began. Most of our wars began down here," he pointed to the Suez Canal area and the Near East, "or in the Balkans."

"That's what Hitler was after—oil and a route through Suez. But we are not going to have peace until we readjust things. Two hundred families own most of the arable land in Iran. About 20 families or so own the best irrigated land in Egypt. I had a survey made when I was in the White House and it showed that the only way we could have peace is to settle all these problems," he pointed to the entire map of the Mediterranean, "from the Adriatic to Morocco."

"We have got to give the people here a chance to live and eat. Actually there is no reason why they can't get along together. I told that to Ibn Saud when I saw him."

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Father, I Know That All My Life

Father, I know that all my life
Is portioned out for me,
The changes that will surely come
I do not fear to see;
I ask Thee for a present mind,
Intent on pleasing Thee.

I ask Thee for a thoughtful love
Through constant watching, wise,
To meet the glad with joyful smiles,
And wipe the weeping eyes.
A heart at leisure from itself,
To soothe and sympathize.

I would not have the restless will
That harries to and fro,
That seeks for some great thing to do
Or secret thing to know.
I would be treated as a child,
And guided where I go.

Wherever in the world I am,
In whatso'er estate,
I have a fellowship with hearts
To keep and cultivate.
A work of lowly love to do
For Him on whom I wait.

By HORACE B. POWELL

"My Times Are In Thy Hand" was the title which Miss Anna Letitia Waring gave to this hymn of consecration when she published it, at the head of a list of poems in a collection of "Hymns and Meditations" in 1850.

Here is a hymn which should be sung and pondered by more men and women today. The world is changing so fast that many are bewildered. On every hand there is a faith-testing turmoil and crisis. But for those who have time to listen, God whispers words of comfort and peace. And the Bible verses which inspired Anna Waring still remind us that our lives are in His keeping, and that however much the world may change, He will continue to be the same forever.

Miss Waring was born in southern Wales in 1820. She was a niece of Samuel Waring, who was widely known for his hymn-writing. The verses cited above are among the best in her own collection.

Highway Safety

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: For several days the "Safety Campaign" had been on for the Fourth of July, experts, officials etc. asking that the death toll be kept to a low rate.

Then one reads in The Lincoln Star that a driver who admits driving at a speed zone and gets involved in an accident in which two people are killed receives a $15 fine.

Only a small per cent of the drivers on the road have any respect for rules or their fellow men, yet nothing is done to improve this. How then can anyone expect a safe Fourth, or any other day, on the highways?

DISGUSTED

Editor's Note: County officials who investigated the accident reported that it could not be proved beyond a reasonable doubt that the speed of the driver who was subsequently fined $15 was the proximate cause of the death of the other driver in the crash which occurred on West O.

Medical Center

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Thank you very much for publishing my letter to you, dated June 26, 1957. And even greater thanks and appreciation for emphasizing in your editorial of July 1, and directing the public's attention to the fact that the multi-million dollar capital investment in Omaha's Medical Center which will insure the better health of all Nebraskans, is being accomplished without tax dollars from Nebraskans.

It appears that you are engulfed in a sea of fear—that you doubt the strength, courage, and faith of a great people who have made this even a greater place in which to live.

Let us look at the facts relating to future costs of maintenance of the several facilities which make up the Medical Center in Omaha which seem to give you such mental unrest.

First, we must always distinguish between the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, which is supported by tax dollars, and other facilities hereinafter named which go to make up the Medical Center which are not supported by tax dollars.

Gov. Anderson judiciously exerted every effort to reduce government spending; he is to be respected for these honest convictions. In keeping with his philosophy, private enterprise in Omaha, together with people who are dedicated to the sacred cause of better health for their fellow men, are expending millions of dollars of private voluntary funds for facilities which are made available to the College of Medicine—all without tax dollars.

Well do I remember that our Gov. Anderson, on the occasion of breaking ground for the C. Louis Meyer Memorial Diagnostic and Treatment Center, the Hattie B. Munroe Home for Convalescing Crippled Children, and the Dr. Lord School for Handicapped Children, paid rich and well-deserved high compliments to the people of Omaha for doing a job which will inevitably result in the better health of all Nebraskans.

Second, let us briefly review the character and stature of the organizations responsible for the construction and maintenance of these facilities which will help provide even better care for the sick, injured and crippled.

Clarkson Memorial Hospital in 1869, in Omaha, began the great humanitarian task of providing hospital care. Its 88 years' service is a rich and glowing tribute to the righteous men and women who have made it possible—all without tax dollars.

In 1926 in Omaha, children afflicted with malnutrition, rheumatic fever and other crippling diseases were given a haven and medical convalescent care.

During these past 31 years, hundreds of children have received this life-giving care without grants from the state of Nebraska to the Hattie B. Munroe Home.

Because the people of the Omaha School District demanded it, the Dr. Lord School for Handicapped Children was organized to make "education" available to crippled and handicapped children. This activity began in 1938 with the help of the Nebraska Society for Crippled Children, and together with funds allocated by the Board of Education—all without any special tax levy from the state of Nebraska for the support and maintenance of the Dr. Lord School. (It is to be noted that "excess cost reimbursements" are made to the Omaha School District by the state—the same being available to every other school district in Nebraska.)

Children's Memorial Hospital was organized on Christmas Eve, 1943; the first patient was admitted to the facility March 14, 1948. Since that time, more than 45,000 children, coming from every county and 389 cities and towns in Nebraska, have been given the finest specialized pediatric hospital and medical care, regardless of creed or their parents' inability to pay. All of this, by the voluntary contributions of those people who want to take care of their own, and those who believe in the better health of all children—and without tax dollars.

The C. Louis Meyer Memorial Diagnostic and Treatment Center is new in Omaha, the funds for the facility being made available by a substantial gift from Mrs. C. Louis Meyer, together with funds under the Hall-Burton Act, Voluntary charitable organizations including the Nebraska Society for Crippled Children, the Cerebral Palsy Association and other organizations and individuals will provide the funds necessary to operate this facility.

Third, and last—certainly the Doctors Building and other private business ventures in the area, important to a good medical center, by no stretch of the most fertile imagination could ever become a burden of the state and the taxpayers.

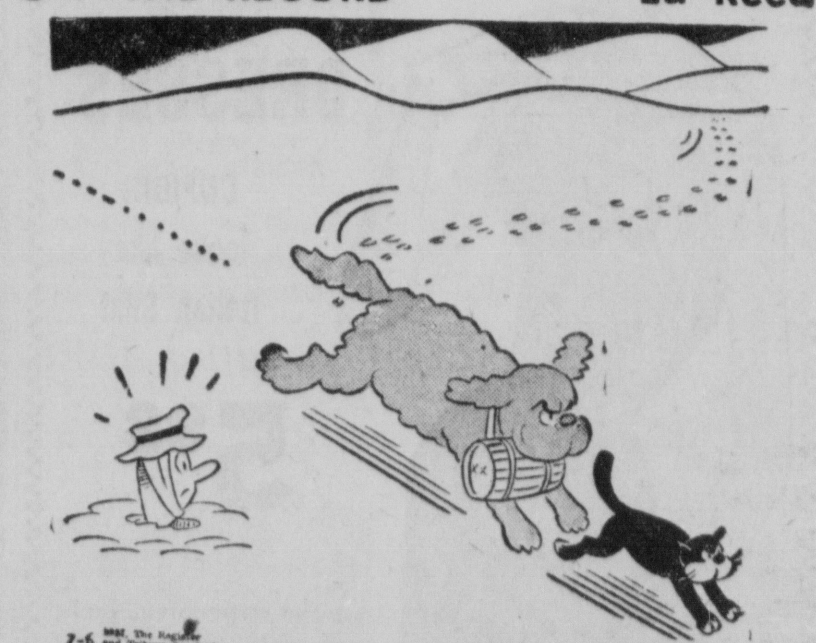

From the foregoing, don't you think that you, and all other Nebraskans, can rightfully continue their trust and belief that these facilities will continue to be of service to all of the people without tax dollars for as many years in the future as they have so righteously performed in the years past. And also remember—these facilities are a major part of a great medical center—but must not be confused with the "expansion of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine."

I believe that any man, or any organization, or any community can do anything they really want to do; and Nebraskans have proved this philosophy many times without the aid of tax dollars.

Decision In Injury Case Is Upheld

A Lincoln County District Court ruling in Woodrow W. Keith vs. Art Wilson and Peter Kiewit, a workman's compensation case decided in favor of employe Keith, was upheld by a majority opinion of the State Supreme Court Friday.

The high court ruling held Kiewit and his insurance company, Employers Mutual Liability Insurance Co. of Wisconsin, liable for damages to Keith, an employe of Wilson, who was in turn employed by Kiewit for the purpose of producing hay on the Pawnee Springs Ranch.

That employe Keith had been injured during the course of his employment was an accepted fact, according to the decision. At issue was only the question of who was liable and responsible for the injury.

Wilson, the court held, was not liable, under terms of Nebraska's workman compensation laws.

Chief Justice Robert Simmons, the lone dissenter, said that both Wilson and Kiewit as "immediate employer" and "employer" should be liable for compensation to Keith.

The case was originally carried to district court, after the workman's compensation court had dismissed Keith's action.

'Non-Hazardous'

The majority opinion in the high court affirmation held that Wilson was not liable because of the fact that the work being done constituted "farm and ranch work" which is classified under state law as a non-hazardous occupation "and not within the provisions of this act."

Simmons, however, stated that the question of whether the work is farm and ranch labor "is not a material consideration."

"It is," Simmons wrote, "A matter of common knowledge that in large farm and ranch operations in this state the harvesting of crops is no longer a farm but is a commercial operation." He said that in his opinion, Wilson, too, should have been held liable, because although he was an employe of Kiewit, he was in fact also Keith's "immediate employer" and subject to liability under the law.

Divorce Ruling Dismissed In another case from Lincoln County District Court, the Supreme Court partly affirmed and partly reversed and dismissed the lower court ruling in the divorce case of Barbara Birth vs. Melvin E. Birth.

The district court had granted Barbara Birth's petition for an absolute divorce with custody of the couple's three-year-old daughter on the grounds of extreme cruelty. A cross-petition by Melvin Birth asking divorce and child custody was turned down.

The high court action upheld the refusal of the lower court to grant a divorce on Melvin Birth's petition, but proceeded to state that Barbara Birth also should not be granted a divorce. Basis of the high court decision was the contention that necessary evidence and proof of the charges of extreme cruelty was lacking.

Wedding At High Noon

MRS. HARRY FUNK

With only members of the immediate families attending the ceremony, the marriage of Marilyn Woods Kilbourne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Pace Woods, to Capt. Harry Melvin Funk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Funk of Middletown, Ky., was solemnized at a high noon service on Friday, July 5, at the home of the bride's parents.

The Very Rev. William Cross, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal, read the lines of the ceremony.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gray chiffon frock, patterned in gold, and she carried white orchids on a white prayer-book.

Capt. Funk and his bride left immediately for a honeymoon in Colorado after which they will return to Lincoln where Capt. Funk is stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, and was graduated from King-Smith School in Washington, D. C.

Capt. Funk attended the University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky.

SUBURBIA

Saturday morning—Park Manor and Patrician Heights in the suburban spotlight with news of new residents, the younger set, and our recent holiday.

PARK MANOR

June was a month in which we bid farewell to many friends who were moving from Park Manor to various parts of the U.S. Now it is our pleasure to make some introductions to the many new residents who have settled in the area.

The latter part of May Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dean Jr. and their son, Mark, moved into their new home at 1610 W. Manor Dr. Since that time, on June 7, to be exact, the Deans have become the proud parents of another son, Thomas Jay.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Abel and their son, Larry, took up residence in our suburb the first of June, and the new address for the family is 1900 E. Manor Dr.

Moving into their Park Manor home on June 10, were Mr. and Mrs. John H. Voerster who are living at 1508 Sunset.

Mr. and Mrs. Voerster have a son, William, who lives in Omaha with his wife and son, Scott.

Time now to meet a new member of the bassinet brigade. Daniel Compton Briggs made his debut at Lincoln General Hospital on Saturday, June 29. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen D. Briggs, and Dan has a sister, Jane Elizabeth. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. R. W. Compton and Mr. and Mrs. Phil S. Briggs are the paternal grandparents.

PATRICIAN HEIGHTS

We hazard a guess that most families don't know from one year to the next what they will be doing on the Fourth of July, but such is not the case with two families of which we've heard. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miyoshi and Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Kief have been celebrating this holiday together and in the same way ever since 1946, except for a few additions to the celebrants through the years, namely, Pam, Kelly, John, and Danny Miyoshi, and Lynn, Robbie, John, Mark, and Kathy O'Kief.

Schedule of events for the day included a breakfast in the park, and an afternoon of relaxation, followed by a watermelon feed and fireworks at Oak Lake in the evening. Joining the two families in their celebration this year were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosenthal and their children, Kathy, Lowell, Lloyd, and Carmen.

The News Around Town

TOWN GROUPS and former campus circles will be interested in news we have from Paris, France, this morning. It concerns Mrs. M. N. Hughes (Calista Cooper of Humboldt, Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska) and her family.

Perhaps you may not know—or maybe have forgotten—that Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and their family reside in Paris where Mr. Hughes is Consul General at the American Embassy—but that isn't the story—

We hear that Mrs. Hughes and her two daughters, the Misses Mary and Judy Hughes—and her son will be arriving in Nebraska early in September.

The objective involving the trip is Humboldt—and Miss Mary Hughes wedding which will take place there in October. But we understand that Miss Judy Hughes will not return to Mt. Holyoke College, where she was a student last year, nor is she returning to Paris with her mother. Miss Hughes will attend the University of Nebraska.

And that brings us to the Hughes son—Having attended schools abroad all of his life he speaks French, German, Italian and a few other languages fluently. Not only does he speak them but he can read and write in all of them. His problem at the moment is reading and writing in English. To speed his efforts along that line the young Mr. Hughes will attend school in Humboldt next year, and will be the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cooper.

WE'VE been wanting to tell you about the arrival of Jeffrey Carrier Barnard in Ann Arbor, Mich., on Friday, June 26. The young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barnard, and his mother is the former Marguerite Carrier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Carrier of Lincoln, and Delta Gamma at Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Barnard of Ann Arbor are the paternal grandparents.

Mrs. Carrier, by the way, left on Tuesday for Ann Arbor for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, and her new grandson.

IT WON'T be too long until the dancing clubs will be giving considerable thought to parties for the coming season—it would seem that the Gay Nighters Club has something of a head start since this morning we have the names of the new members—and also those of the new officers who recently were elected.

This season's new group of Gay Nighters will include Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lawlor, Mr. and Mrs. John Gates Minnick, Mr. and Mrs. Max Burroughs, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. William Henkle, Dr. and Mrs. Larry McKee and Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Scott.

The new officers of the club include Mr. and Mrs. William Rolfsmeier, president; Mr. and Mrs. Foster Woodruff, vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Luikart, Jr., secretary, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young, treasurer.

Had Morning Wedding

At a 9 o'clock morning ceremony on Monday, June 10, Miss Mary Lou Benes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril F. Benes, became the bride of Don Machacek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Machacek, all of Valparaiso. White and yellow gladioli decorated the altar of St. Vitus Church at Touhy for the service, which was solemnized by the Rev. Vaclav Sladky, and Mrs. Charles Maly, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the church choir.

As the maid of honor, Miss Irene Karpisek of Lincoln wore a full-skirted frock of yellow, ruffled net over taffeta, and wearing identical ensembles in aqua blue were the bridesmaids, Miss LaVerne Machacek and Miss Kay Joyce Polak of Valparaiso, Miss Sally Fuxa of Dwight, and Miss Laurel Handler of Wahoo. They carried bouquets of Esther Reed daisies.

DeRoyce Polak of Valparaiso served as best man, and the ushers were Louis Benes, Chapman; Vitus Benes, Rudy Benes, Emil Bouc and John Albin, all of Valparaiso; Wilmer Virgil and William Masek of Raymond.

The bride's gown of white lace and tulle over satin was designed in the colonial mode. Tiny pearls patterned the lace to frame the Sabrina neckline, and the abbreviated sleeves were complemented by long mitts of the lace. The full skirt of lace and tulle tiers ended in a train, and her illusion veil was held by a cap of jeweled lace. She carried an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

A reception and wedding dinner was held at St. Mary's Hall in Valparaiso for 300 guests.

Following a wedding trip to western states, the couple will reside in Lincoln. Both have attended the Nebraska Business Institute.

Candlelight Service

MRS. JERRY GREELEY PRICE

At an early evening ceremony solemnized Friday, July 5, Miss Altha Jean Van Arsdol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle A. Van Arsdol, became the bride of Jerry Greeley Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Greeley D. Price of Bartlett. White and blue-tinted gladioli appointed the altar of Grace Methodist Church for the service, which was read by Dr. Harold Sandall, and Mrs. Ross Shrader, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Carlyle Weiss the vocal soloist.

Miss Jane Kay Price of Bartlett was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Cruickshank of Leigh and Mrs. Walter Garner. Miss Peggy Kuntzman of Omaha was the bridesmaid, and lighting the candles were Mrs. Robert Lawson and Mrs. James Hyland. The attendants wore alike ballerina frocks of white lace over blue taffeta and carried carnations in matching tones.

Serving as best man was Paul Balcer of Pierce, and the ushers were Keith Thom Van Arsdol of Brooklyn, N.Y., Charles Doane, Jr., and Gifford Tompkins of Omaha.

The bride's gown of white Rosepoint lace and tulle was fashioned in the period mode.

To Be Morning Bride

MISS SHEILA MCGOWAN whose marriage to Thomas Loisel will be solemnized this morning.

With pale blue carnations filling the altar vases and appointing the chancel, the marriage of Miss Sheila McGowan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. H. McGowan of Columbus, to Thomas F. Loisel, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Loisel of West Point, will take place this morning at St. Bonaventure Church in Columbus. The Rev. Timothy Healy will solemnize the 10:30 o'clock service and Louis Rambour, who will play the wedding music, also will accompany the vocal soloist, Miss Sharon Bove.

The attendants, including Mrs. Joseph W. Speicher of Washington, D.C., who will be her sister's matron of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Ann Loisel, sister of the bridegroom; Miss JoEllen Tocher of Schuyler; Miss Stacia Bolin of Chicago, and Miss Dorothy Gladfelter, will appear in alike costumes of pale blue taffeta. The elongated bodices are designed with portrait necklines of brief sleeves, and the wide skirts are ballerina length. Bandoaux of blue daisies will hold in place the brief face veils, and each will carry a nosegay of pink roses and blue daisies. Madge Speicher will be the flower girl, and Jack Costello of Kansas City, Mo., will carry the ring.

Dan Loisel of Lincoln will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Don Loisel, Robert Loisel, both of Lincoln; Dr. Patrick McGowan Jr., Brownwood, Tex., Harry Pappas of Lincoln; Charles Costello of Kansas City; Terry Higgins of Schuyler; James Kneivel of West Point, and Dr. J. P. Lannan.

The bride will appear in a gown of pure silk peau de soie. The sculptured bodice, patterned with an over-lay of rose point lace, is fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and brief sleeves, and the lace is repeated to drift over the voluminous skirt which is completed with a chapel train. Her mantilla veil of lace is elbow-length, and she will carry a cascade bouquet of white roses, white orchids and stephanotis.

A wedding luncheon at the Wayside Country Club for only the members of the families and the bride party will be followed by an afternoon reception, also at the club.

The bride attended St. Mary's School of Nursing, Rochester, Minn. Mr. Loisel is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Wedding On Saturday

MISS DIANE TOWNE, who will become the bride of Leo Patrick Winey of Shelton on Saturday morning, July 6.

All-white gladioli and woodwardia will decorate the chancel and altar of Blessed Sacrament Church on Saturday morning, July 6, for the wedding of Miss Diane Towne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Towne, and Leo Patrick Winey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Winey of Shelton. The 10:30 o'clock service will be solemnized by Father D. J. Pohl, and the wedding music will be played by Miss Catherine Gillespie, organist.

Miss Marilyn Towne will be the maid of honor and her sister's only attendant and will wear a sheath frock of white lace smoothed over turquoise taffeta. The snug bodice and slim skirt are accented by a tucked cummerbund of the taffeta ending in a large bustle bow, and she will carry a bouquet of white and blue-tinted feathered carnations.

Serving his brother as best man will be Kenley Winey of Shelton, and seating the guests will be Donald Wahl, Omaha; Richard Winey of Shelton, also a brother of the bridegroom; and Thomas Haley.

For her wedding, the bride has chosen a gown of white silk taffeta touched with Nylbrode lace. A wide band of the lace frames the rounded décolletage of the molded bodice, and the abbreviated sleeves are complemented by long mitts of the taffeta completed by deep ruffles of the lace over the hands. Caught into fullness of unpressed pleats, the waltz-length skirt is trimmed at the back by a draped bow of the taffeta. Her shoulder veil of illusion will be held by a modified pillbox cap of lace.

Immediately following the service, a reception for 150 guests will be held at the home of the bride's parents. For their wedding trip to northern Minnesota, the bride will wear a white and blue checked ensemble with red accessories.

Mr. Winey and his bride, both former students at the University of Nebraska, will make their home at Kearney. Miss Towne is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and Mr. Winey is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Train Hits Water; 2 Men Lost

Three Rescued

EDENTON, N.C. (AP) — A section of a 45-year-old railroad trestle collapsed Friday under the weight of a Norfolk Southern freight train, plunging five crewmen, two diesel engines and a freight car into the dark, choppy waters of Albemarle Sound.

Three of the crewmen were rescued. The railroad identified the two missing crewmen as Conductor S. R. Bray of Raleigh and W. M. Munden of Norfolk, Va. An all day search for them failed.

The Elizabeth City Coast Guard station, 65 miles away, received a report from skin divers on the scene. They reported no trace of the two men in the submerged engines.

Most of the 77-car train stayed on the 12-foot high trestle, which stretches 5.1 miles across the sound from Mackey to Edenton. But the crewmen, engulfed as the 145-ton diesel engines sank some 20 feet to the bottom, had to struggle clear of the wreckage and hail their way blindly to the surface.

C. E. Jones, 41, of Pantego, N.C., was found by searchers clinging to pilings of the bridge, within 20 minutes after the crash. Jones, taken to a hospital, gave information that led to a helicopter pickup of Fireman John Lowery, 51, of Norfolk.

Later, 38-year-old Fireman Burton Rankin of Norfolk was thrown up by waves on the beach about a mile away. He had grabbed a floating piece of wood from the trestle.

Bigger Punch By America Possible

GENEVA (AP) — The United States is capable of maintaining indefinitely an arms race with Russia if the disarmament talks in London fail, the U.S. representative at the U.N. Economic and Social Council said.

Dr. Neil H. Jacoby told a news conference.

"We are far from the limit of our economic capacity to support a national defense program."

Jet Claimed

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China claimed its anti-aircraft guns shot down one Nationalist Sabre jet fighter plane and damaged three others in two days.

Peiping radio said four Nationalist fighters intruded over the Swatow area of the southeast coast.

The radio said one plane was hit and "plunged into the sea and exploded." The others escaped, the broadcast said.

The radio said Nationalist fighters appeared over the Swatow area Wednesday and three planes were damaged.

Neuharth Backed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The chairman of a Florida Legislative Committee moved to wipe out a contempt recommendation against Allen H. Neuharth, city editor of the Miami Herald.

The recommendation was made a month ago by the legislative committee investigating the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. Neuharth, a witness, refused to divulge his source of information for a story about a cache of dynamite reportedly to be used during a racial dispute in Dade County (Miami).

Rep. Henry Land, committee chairman who will preside at a reorganization meeting Monday, said "after analyzing the situation, I am of the opinion there is no basis for a contempt citation and I will recommend to the committee that it be rescinded."

Bond Sale

... For Building

The congregation of the First Southern Baptist Church will hold a kick-off banquet at 7 p.m. Monday at the Lincoln Hotel, launching a $100,000 bond sale campaign for the building of a church edifice.

Construction of the first unit, an educational building on property purchased at 14th and Calvert may get under way by the first of August, according to the Rev. Tom Hodgins, pastor.

Previous commitments totaling $9,000 have been made by members of the congregation so far, the Rev. Mr. Hodgins reported.

The Rev. Aubrey C. Halsell of Memphis, Tenn., director of the Baptist Building Service, will direct the bond campaign.

The 200-member congregation now meets at the YMCA.

'Lincoln-Omaha Interstate Ready By '60'

First Contract Due In Week

OMAHA (AP)—State Engineer L. N. Rens told Mayor John Rosenblatt Friday that "all construction in the Lincoln and Omaha areas" involving the interstate highway program should be completed by 1960.

The estimated cost of building the interstate from the Lancaster-Seward County line is $72 million. The state will share the cost with the federal government on a 10-90 basis.

The only cost to the city will be improvement of access roads to the highway, and Mayor Rosenblatt said he would ask the Omaha Improvement Commission to commit nearly $2 million in unused money for the widening of 42nd St. from Center to L Sts., and for similar improvements on the city's portion of 60th St.

"With the passage of LB 375 by the Legislature," Rens said, "we now are able to do some definite long-range planning." The legislation added a cent to the gasoline tax and is expected to bring in about $3,750,000 more each year.

Rens said the contract for construction of the first 6.4 miles of the interstate from the Gretna Fish Hatchery corner to Highway 370 east of Gretna—will be awarded within a week.

The state, Rens said, expects to advertise for bids and award contracts on the stretch from Highway 370 to 114th and L Sts. within three or four months. The balance of the work in the Omaha area will be advertised during 1958 and 1959.

Nebraska-Iowa Settlement Seen At State Level

OMAHA (AP)—Sen. Roman Hruska said Friday the Nebraska-Iowa interstate highway controversy "eventually will have to be decided on the state level."

Hruska said that Bertram D. Tallamy, federal highway administrator, "makes every effort to avoid telling the states where the interstate route must be located." Hruska, who recently met with Tallamy, was in Omaha to discuss the problem with Mayor Rosenblatt, State Engineer L. N. Rens and other officials.

Nebraska and Iowa have been at odds for several months over the proposed location of the final leg of interstate highway No. 1 in western Iowa. One plan would extend the road north of Omaha and the other would have it connect with the Nebraska interstate at Council Bluffs.

Warmer Weather On Way Back

Scattered thunderstorms are expected along the eastern Gulf Coast region Saturday, in the area from South Dakota southwest to the southern Rockies, and in western Montana. Showers are due in the northern Appalachians and the upper Mississippi Valley. It will be cooler in New England and along the Pacific Coast. It will be warmer in the large area from the Great Lakes southwest through the middle Mississippi valley to the southern Plains. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Hyannis Youth Fatally Injured

HYANNIS, Neb. (AP)—Funeral services will be held Saturday for James Douglas Thurston, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thurston of Hyannis.

He died in a hospital of injuries suffered when a horse fell on him while he practiced with the horse patrol at the fairgrounds east of here.

James and his brother were filling in for members of the Girls Patrol who could not attend the drill and their horses collided. James' horse fell and rolled over him. He was hospitalized in Alliance but he never regained consciousness.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer
Friday make all the footprints.
To bad that Congress failed to fix the duration of the long weekends by parliamentary procedure. There's a fine line of demarcation between hospitality and squatter's sovereignty.

Even Elsa Maxwell wouldn't send her laundry out more than twice on one invitation. She knows there's no law to prevent the hostess from putting pinheads in the swimming pool.

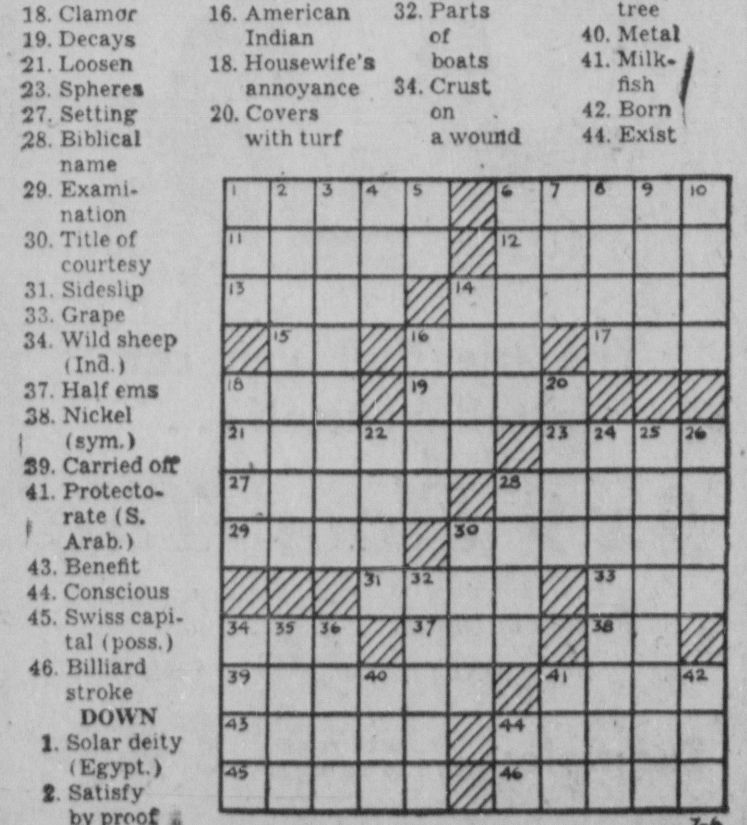

Twenty-five years ago we asked Emily Post one mootable quizzation about the long weekend. How many days must a guest be there before she takes part in the family arguments?

Let us all be impartial about the married men's single men's basketball game at the picnic grounds. Last year the married men's team won only 11 years old. Drive carefully and fool your hostess. She's betting you won't get there.

U.S. DOUBTS REDS ACTED FOR PEACE

... In Firing Four

WASHINGTON (U)—The United States skeptically challenged Soviet boss Nikita Khrushchev Friday to prove he was acting for world peace in firing V. M. Molotov and other old Stalinists.

The U.S. reaction was expressed in a statement by State Department press officer Lincoln White. It seemed to be designed to warn other nations against jumping to quick conclusions about a hoped new turn in Soviet foreign policy. In effect the statement counseled "a wait and see what happens" attitude.

This reflects the private reaction of State Department officials and analysts in the absence from town of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, both of whom are taking July 4 holidays.

Skeptical

The officials are highly skeptical that the Russians have really explained the real reason why Molotov and the others were fired, and those reasons frankly are not known here.

If Molotov, Georgi Malenkov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov were all acting as obstructionists to peaceful measures—as charged—their ouster would seem to indicate new Soviet steps in the offing.

U. S. officials don't believe it will work out that way. They challenge the Soviets to show their hand by calling for "just solutions" to such critical international problems as East-West agreement on a disarmament program and the reunification of Germany.

Sprague Man, 27, Gets $100 Fine On Contributing Count

Elmer Bargman, 27, of Sprague was fined $100 in Lancaster County Court after pleading guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Bargman was charged with a July 2 offense involving a 17-year-old Roca girl.

Acting County Judge Ralph Slocum was told Bargman picked the girl up after work Wednesday and had driven to a point six miles northwest of Malcolm, where he made indecent advances to her in a cornfield.

The girl freed herself and fled to a nearby farm house, said Deputy Co. Atty. Paul Douglas who related the girl's story to the court. Bargman, who admitted he had been drinking, told the court he couldn't remember making any advances on the girl.
